Forecast for Friday 13 Aug 2021

Weather: A dry and bright start will follow with any patches of cloud on the hills soon lifting to leave a fine day. The odd passing shower can't be ruled out, but these will be few and far between. Some patchy cloud may descend on the hills through late evening.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 600m: 100%, falling 70% through late evening.

Visibility: Very little, if any low level cloud expected so visibility will be very good giving far reaching views. Passing showers doing little to affect visibility.

Forecast for Saturday 14 Aug 2021

Weather: Another bright and occasionally breezy day with plenty of sunshine and predominantly dry conditions. There is some uncertainty in the forecast later in the day with thicker cloud and patchy rain possible through evening, but this looks less likely at this stage.

Maximum wind: Westerly 15-20mph gusting up to 30mph on highest ground. Easing through evening.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 600m: 60% improving 95% through morning.

Visibility: Cloud will be relatively extensive above 500m through early morning giving misty or foggy conditions on the hills initially, but this will lift and start to break with most cloud above the summits through the day.

Temperature: Valleys: Plus 14 Celsius rising to 19 Celsius.
At 600m: Around plus 12 Celsius.
Freezing level: Well above summits.
